Strategy for a company means to identify the potential within and set the way for winning the competition. Related to this, an HR leader is having responsibility to understand how the business environment is changing, the potentials lay inside the company, and their position in the industry in order to contribute in building company competitive advantages through talent management and organizational transformation.

「The role of HR Business Partner is to utilize the best in people and organization to achieve the business goal」

However, in reality, there are many HR leaders who could not succeed in this. The low awareness in company achievement, lack of perspective and ability to see business from helicopter point of view are some symptoms that HR leaders may lack of speediness in responding to the world changes.

In this webinar a multinational company HR Director who is executing HR business partner concept will deliver his thought and do discussion related to company strategy and HR issues together with participants.
