Strategy for a company is about identifying the potential within and set the way for winning the competition. HR leader in the company is responsible to understand business environment and how is changing, the capability inside the company, and their position in the industry in order to build company competitive advantages through HR practices such as talent management and organizational transformation.

「The role of HR Business Partner is to utilize the best in people and organization to achieve the business goal」

However, there are many HR leaders who could not succeed in this. The lack of awareness in company capability, lack of perspective and ability to see business from strategic point of view are some symptoms that HR leaders may lack in responding to the world changes and their ability to help their companies.

In this webinar, an HR leader from a multi-national company who is working as HR business partner will share his thoughts and discuss how to relate company strategy to HR strategy and program and finding the right solution for some common HR issues with participants.

This Webinar will be useful for HR leaders and business leaders who want to gain the best business performance utilizing strategy in Human Resources.
